Sensory parachute

Playing with a parachute is very popular in activities for babies and toddlers. The sea parachute is an innovative teaching aid supporting the sensory development of children. During the game, participants practice motor skills and eye-hand coordination, which is extremely important in the early years of development. The multitude of details, colors and shapes allows children and toddlers to experience new visual impressions while stimulating them to physical activity. Recommended especially for work with children aged 0-3, also during classes with parents. Parachute made of polyester. Dim.: dia. 2,5 m, 8 handles

"Beat your opponent" mat

The player's task is to roll the ball (without using his hands) into a recess in the opponent's field and at the same time prevent him from hitting his own ball. One has to maneuver the mat so that the ball hits the competitor's field as often as possible. A colorful mat is made of durable Oxford fabric with a strong weave, so there is no risk of tearing it during the game. The ball is included in the set. In order not to be surprised by the opponent, almost all tricks are allowed: standing up, crouching, raising your hands, waving the mat, anything to make it difficult for the opponent to score a point. Dim.: 180 x 110 cm
